WOVEN HEART BASKET

INSTRUCTIONS

Weave these little heart baskets from wool felt for Valentine's Day. Fill them with a few treats for someone you love, tuck notes inside and send them to school in lieu of store-bought Valentines, or hang them up in your home as festive decorations. This is a quick and easy craft that kids and adults alike will enjoy. What you'll need: A Woven Heart Basket template, wool felt in red and white (Try our Valentine's Day Felt Set), a needle and thread.

1. Print the Heart Basket template, cut out a pattern piece, and fold it down the middle along the dotted line. Fold a piece of white felt and place the template along the fold. Trace around with a pencil and cut out. Repeat with the red felt.

2. With the template on top of the felt as your guide, cut along the three solid lines, starting on the fold. Repeat with your second piece of felt.

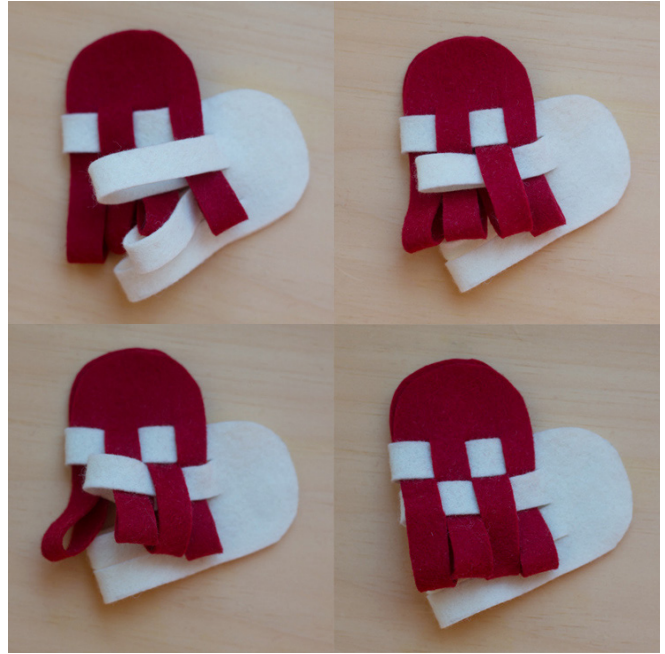

3. It's time to start weaving! Lay your two pieces of felt down as shown above, still folded in half. Use the letters and numbers above for clarity when following the weaving instructions.

4. Take section A and insert it through 1, around 2, through 3, and around 4.

5. Push piece A up as far as it will go to make room for the next pieces.

6. For the second row, weave piece B around 1, through 2, around 3 and into 4. Push B up as far as it will go.

7. Piece C follows the same path as A: through 1, around 2, etc. Piece D follows the instructions for piece B. Cut a 6-inch strip of felt and sew it onto the front and back of the heart (sandwich the ends between the two colors). Put something sweet in your basket and give it to your Valentine!
